Life Saved At Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Tex., as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctors treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me.

Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years." Quick, safe, sure, its the best remedy on earth for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. 50c & $1.00.
Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by State Convention W. C. T. U.

The state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in this city Sept. 29th for a session of three days. The attendance will be very large and most of the leading temperance workers of Kentucky will be present.

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer."
"Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys.
Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at all druggists.

Watermelons Are Ripe.

Home grown watermelons are now quite plentiful and the quality is good. Prices are falling as the season advances and very fine ones can be purchased for 25 cents.

Falls Victim To Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now.
Unrivalled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c at all druggists.

Kill Self Accidentally.

Elkton, Ky., Aug. 8.—Miss Rene Rager, aged about 22 years, accidentally shot and killed herself with a 38 revolver at the home of Lewis Hightower, near here. The ball entered the abdomen, inflicting a wound from which she died in about an hour.

Serious Charge.

W. W. Arnold, a well known farmer, living about four miles north of Madisonville, was arraigned Saturday before Police Judge J. W. Wilson for examining trial upon the charge of abstracting the sum of $11 from a dresser drawer at the home of Ed Hatler and appropriating the same to his own use. He was held

HE KNEW ABOUT THE ORIENT

One Occasion on Which Venerable and Infallible Joke Partially Failed.

"They" were chatting in the smoking room of a little Koninklijke Paket-vaart Maatschappij coaster, on a two months' run among the islands below the equator, when some one speaking of the Malay peninsula, some one else said: "My impression of the straits settlements can be summed up in a single picture: A strong, black man, standing in the center of a muddy stream, trying to split a rock with a shirt."

Now this always provokes a laugh; it is venerable and infallible. But to my surprise, says Frederick S. Isham, the novelist, one of the smoking room contingent, on this occasion it partially failed. What was the trouble? The delinquent, the one man out of seven who didn't laugh, was sallow, saturnine, and English.

"What's the matter, old chap?" asked the novelist. "Don't you see the point or are you waiting until tomorrow to wake up to it?"

The other turned his head wearily.
"See the point?" he said sadly. "I should think I did. I ought to. I," tragically, "am the man who owned the shirt."

Then we, knowing he had lived 25 years in the Orient, became silent; our laughter ceased. A sympathetic melancholy descended upon us. Englishman or not, we took him to our heart of hearts and made a brother of him.

VIRTUES OF THE PINEAPPLE

Veritable Medicine Is This Delicious Fruit When Fresh—Its Value as a Digestive.

Fresh pineapple juice has great value as a digestive. A small amount will digest a considerable piece of steak or any other animal tissue. Boiling, however, seems to kill the enzymes in the pineapple, so that after canning it loses its digestive power.

The peculiar property of pineapple juice makes it of value in many ways.
For instance, in diphtheria it is used as a gargle, and the diphtheria membrane disappears like magic at its touch. It seems to have the power of picking out all non-living animal tissues and rapidly digesting them, leaving all the living tissues. In cases of quinsy, pineapple juice digests all poisonous tissue, often giving quick relief.

Sometimes it is not best to incise or lance a boil, and the yellow cap may often remain upon the boil without opening, holding back the pus. The application of pineapple juice invariably establishes free drainage within a short time.

For administration in the stomach, pineapple acts, adds the Family Doctor, as a preventive rather than a cure. It cannot quickly correct an acute attack of indigestion, though it may prevent an attack.

Lydia Gets the Credit.

It is to Lydia that we owe the invention of coinage. In all times and in all countries, the privilege of coining has been allowed the sovereign.
Croesus of Lydia was the first monarch to introduce a bimetallic system of coinage—gold and silver in the proportion of about three to four.
This was some time between 560 and 546 B. C.

Metal was chosen, doubtless, by reason of its durability and in the case of gold and silver, by reason of their intrinsic value. Silver and brass were first used, particularly in Greece, from a lack of sufficient gold. Later, however, this definitely was overcome.

The less liable a metal is to change in value, the better it is suited for a standard.

The Greeks first issued real coin some time during the seventh century B. C. By the fourth century the entire civilized world used money—

Classified Mail.

"Good morning," the young woman said as she stepped to the window at the post office. "Is there a letter for me today?"

"I'll look," the clerk answered.
The young woman blushed a little, and she added, "It's a business letter."

The man inside the window took up a handful of letters and looked them over hastily. Then he informed the customer that there was nothing for her; and with great disappointment depicted on her lovely features, she went away. In five minutes she was back again—this time blushing more furiously than before.

"I—I deceived you," she stammered.
"It—it wasn't a business letter I was expecting. Will you please see if there is something for me among the love letters?"

Rather Rough on the Neighbors.

Many brain workers find at times a distinct need for some violent frolic or escape to relieve their pent-up feelings and overstrained nerves.

One such man has a preference for banging door; another for playing the "Dead March in Saul" with one finger; a third, after a heavy day's work, will go round the neighborhood ringing door bells; whilst a fourth, to steady his nerves, will dash a teacup against a wall.

It seems an idiotic thing to slap a cushman's face to relieve one's feelings, yet this is what a well-known actor does; and he does it in such a gentlemanly fashion, and pays so liberally, that the driver seldom takes offense.

Who Was There That You Knew?

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 30 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs.
It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.
